Children and Families Act 2014 Part 3: Children and young people in England with special educational needs or disabilities

Equality Act 2010: the School has a statutory duty not to directly or indirectly discriminate against disabled children and young people and must make ‘reasonable adjustments’, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services for them, and the school must have an ‘anticipatory duty’ towards disability.

Definition and inclusion

Definition of Special Educational Needs and Disability

The Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice (0-25 years) 2015 states that: 'A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her. A child of compulsory school age has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she: has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or post 16 institutions'.

'A child under compulsory school age has SEND if he or she is likely to fall within the definition above when they reach compulsory schools age or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them'. (Section 1: xiii; xiv)

Many children and young people who have SEND may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 – that is '... a physical or mental impairment which has a long term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day to day activities'. This definition provides a relatively low threshold and includes more children than many realise: 'long-term' is defined as 'a year or more' and 'substantial' is defined as 'more than minor or trivial'. (Section 1: xviii)

This definition includes children and young people with long term medical conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy and cancer. Children and young people with such conditions do not necessarily have SEND, but where a child requires special educational provision over and above the adjustments, aids and services required by the Equality Act 2010, they will additionally be covered by the SEND definition. In addition, we are required to also have regard to statutory guidance regarding supporting pupils with medical conditions (DfE 2015)

Class teacher /subject teacher

Liaising with the SENDCo to agree:

- which pupils in the class are vulnerable learners/giving cause for concern
- which pupils are underachieving and need to have short term additional interventions monitored on a cause for concern provision map – but do not have special educational needs.
- which pupils require additional support because of a special educational need. Some of these pupils may require advice/support from an outside professional and, therefore, a Support Plan to address a special educational need (this would include pupils with EHC Plans)

Securing good provision and good outcomes for all groups of vulnerable learners by:

- providing adaptive teaching and learning opportunities, including scaffolding work for any EAL pupils which reduces linguistic difficulty whilst maintaining cognitive challenge.
- ensuring there is adequate opportunity for pupils with special educational needs to working on agreed targets which are genuinely ‘different from or additional to that normally available to pupils of the same age’ as part of the differentiated curriculum offer and strategies available to each pupil. Identification of SEND

In addition to the current criteria as identified within the Local Authority Local Offer, the school uses the following criteria for cognition and learning.

At Partney C of E Primary School we use a range of methods, both formal and informal, to gather information to help in the decision making process.

These include:

- Observation of the child over a period of time (by class teacher, teaching assistants, midday supervisors).
- Monitoring data (collected every term and discussed with the class teacher and headteacher at our termly pupil progress meetings).
- Conversations with the Pupil where appropriate
- Parent/teacher discussions.
- ‘Cause for concern’ (see appendix) forms will be filled in to show why we might have initial concerns and what has already been put in place to support the child.
- Once the evidence has been gathered, the class teacher, SENDCo will meet with the parents/carers and the child to discuss next steps.
- When appropriate, A V-SEND page will be filled out by the SENDCo, to track the progress of the child and any further needs that may emerge.

SEND Support: Assess, Plan, Do, Review

In line with the Code of Practice methodology of Assess, Plan, Do, Review children with SEND are identified as early as possible. Class teachers are continually aware of children’s learning and the progress of every child is monitored half-termly. Where a child is identified (assessed) as not making progress, in spite of quality first differentiated teaching, he/she is raised as an initial concern with the SENDCO. These concerns are shared with parents and

“Our small school community welcomes everyone and aspires to meet the needs of all through high expectations, Christian Values and compassionate support. Through shared values we create a firm foundation for all to fulfil their potential as future citizens of the world. Our challenging and exciting learning environment enables everyone to go forward as champions of happiness, health and hope.”

an immediate plan of action is agreed.

Less than expected progress can be characterised by progress which:

- is significantly slower than their peers from the same baseline
- fails to match or better the child’s previous rate of progress
- fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers

There are four distinct categories of SEND need as identified within the Code of Practice 2014:

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, emotional and mental health
- Physical and Sensory

Once a child has been correctly identified with special educational needs, initially the class teacher will meet regularly with the parents/carers to keep them informed of small steps of progress as part of the ‘assess, plan, do, review’ cycle. However, as part of the review process within the Code, regular reviews will be available with the SENDCO. Normally these will be three times a year; more frequent meetings might become necessary if there is a need to move from SEND Support towards a request for an EHCP Needs Assessment.

Wherever possible pupils will remain with their class/subject teacher, in the classroom as this is where they learn best, with the rest of their class. However, are times when ‘additional to, different from’ interventions need to be offered to support pupils in their learning. When any additional support is allocated, whether it is delivered by a teacher, specialist teacher or Teaching Assistant, the focus of all intervention will be on outcomes; our aim is to put in sufficient support to enable our pupils to reach challenging targets, but without developing a learned dependence upon an adult. All pupils on the SEND register will be supported, monitored and reviewed appropriately; internal assessments will be moderated to ensure validity and reliability. External advice will be acted upon and any additional training to meet needs will be sought, as necessary.

At every stage of the SEND process it is our policy to work in partnership with our parents and their child to secure the best possible outcomes.

COMPLAINTS

- The school works, wherever possible, in full partnership with parents and carers to ensure a collaborative approach to meeting pupils’ needs.
- However, all complaints are taken seriously and will be heard through the school’s complaints procedure.

Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Policy

“Our small school community welcomes everyone and aspires to meet the needs of all through high expectations, Christian Values and compassionate support. Through shared values we create a firm foundation for all to fulfil their potential as future citizens of the world. - In most instances complaints can be resolved at class teacher level. However, if this is not possible, complaints relating to SEND should be addressed to the SENDco and/or the Headteacher.
- If a situation remains unresolved then a letter outlining your concern should be SENDt formally to the Clerk to the Governors at the school address:
- The Clerk to Governors is: Mr Ben Butch; ben.butch@lincolnshire.gov.uk
- If the normal Governance procedure fails to resolve a situation pertaining to a child with special educational needs and/or disability, then you would need to contact the Local Authority Head of Service for Additional Needs:

A further outline of the procedure for complaints can be seen on:

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

The school is committed to providing equal opportunities for all, regardless of race, faith, gender or capability in all aspects of school. We promote self and mutual respect and a caring and non-judgmental attitude throughout the school.
